"When we embrace equity, we embrace diversity, and we embrace inclusion."

#EmbraceEquity – being fair and impartial

Women these days face a lot of challenges in their social life, spiritual life as well as their career.

This calls for them to deal with Unconscious bias at home, community and in the workplace. We need to respect each other and find ways to accept our differences and work in harmony with each other.

Ladies in this Mine work away from home which is a challenge, they need to leave their small babies and their families behind. This creates a lot of stress, balancing work and family responsibilities, but we as SMD leaders commend these ladies and are proud of them. We will support any of these ladies who feel burnout in order for them to continue being phenomenal women
